YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY CARD

The Social Security number shown on your card is yours alone. Record your number in a safe in case your card is lost or stolen. Protect both your card and your number to prevent their misuse.

If you lose your card or change your name, you will need to file a new application and submit evidence of identity to obtain a duplicate or corrected card. You may also have to submit evidence of U.S. citizenship or lawful alien status. Contact any Social Security office to find out exactly what you need.

Show your card to your employer when you start a new job. Make sure your employer gets your number and name right so we can record your earnings correctly.

Some private organizations use Social Security numbers for record keeping purposes. Such use is neither required nor prohibited by Federal law. The use of your Social Security number by such organizations for its own records is a private matter between you and the organization. Private organizations cannot get information from your Social Security record just because they know your number.

Any Federal, State, or local government agency that asks for your number must tell you: why giving it is mandatory or voluntary, its authority for requesting the number, and how the number will be used.

If you are an alien without permission to work in the U.S., your Social Security card will be marked "NOT VALID FOR EMPLOYMENT". We will notify U.S. immigration officials if you use the number to work.

If you are an alien legally in the U.S. with temporary permission to work, your Social Security card will be marked "VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH INS AUTHORIZATION". If you show this to an employer as evidence of employment eligibility, you will also have to show your U.S. immigration document authorizing employment.

Contact any Social Security office immediately if you:

- are unable to work because of a severe disability expected to last a year or more;
- are age 62 or older—to ask about possible retirement benefits;
- are within 3 months of age 65, even if you don't plan to retire—to sign up for Medicare;

This card is the official verification of your Social Security number. Please sign it right away. Keep it in a safe place.

Improper use of this card or number by anyone is punishable by fine, imprisonment or both.

This card belongs to the Social Security Administration and you must return it if we ask for it.
