To Whom It May Concern: Re: Darrien Fields

This letter is to give my very high recommendation for Darrien Fields for employment opportunity or any other responsible positions.

I have known Darrien for a long time since he was an elementary student (I work in Minneapolis Schools) as his mentor and have maintained contact ever since.

He is a bright, capable young man with a wonderful outgoing personality. He always presents as unusually helpful, eager to learn, open, and extremely respectful and considerate of others. He really understands gratitude beyond just "thanks" He would be very good at any job that would involve good customer relations or service. I've always known him to be a hard worker.

He has worked successfully at food service, a grocery store, and he loves sports and is doing very well in school, with very good grades.

Because of his likability, good character, and willingness to work hard and learn, I feel Darrien would be an asset to any place of business or service organization.

Feel free to contact me as a reference.
