Mission Objective In a nutshell I'm a seasoned screen printer with a marketing background seeking new opportunities to expand my career & professional skills.

My professional experience ranges from office settings to warehouse worker - and I've decided that I love being a warehouse production worker! I like the individual responsibility, independence to work efficiently without distraction, and I believe a position on a warehouse team will offer me the ability to balance work with personal/family life.

Skills Excellent verbal and written communication skills, honest worker, attention to detail, values integrity & self-accountability, high regard for personal and public safety.

Computer Skills Advanced in current versions of HTML/CSS, Illustrator, Creative Cloud, Wordpress • Advanced at using and creating formula-driven Excel/Sheets • Database design with specific experience in Quickbase & phpmyadmin
