ACTIVITIES

Recent collegiate baseball athlete of course I love everything that has to do with the game. For being retired, I still manage to coach and be an instructor in my day to day so I am able to do my part in helping the next generation. I also love to work out, and enjoy the outdoors. I am currently using my free time to obtain a personal training certification so I am able to gain more knowledge in order to help live a longer healthier life. I like to hang out with family as much as I can, and also travel the world. I am my own worst critic, and love to keep busy by learning new things.
