PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a self-motivated business acumen that strives to push the envelope by diving fearlessly into controversial industries.

I create and inspire my team to value and produce both tangible and intangible products and services that have a mission to advance and innovate what options are available for people and businesses around the world.

I have extensive experience and the drive to be a leader in times of ever-present change. Corporate and economic shifts are being expedited daily and without the capital markets present in the era we live in today; our nation's technology and knowledge would be lacking. I have a personal obligation and high standard set to influence the manufacturing, renewable energy, banking, and pharmaceutical industries.

Although business is filled with ups and downs; only a small percentage of the world is willing to sacrifice in the short term, to prosper in the long run. I am a persuasive speaker and negotiator, and a dedicated entrepreneur accomplished in concept development, feasibility analysis, and securing the funding necessary for successful business growth.

In 2010, I was serving my second tour of duty in Afghanistan; As a member of a Special Forces Division – the most elite force in the Army. There I saw firsthand the systematic use of medical energy enhancers and medical sleep enhancers the military was prescribing for almost every soldier in the field.

I returned to civilian life and became a director of emergency response for Enbridge Petroleum (one of the world's largest pipeline companies with revenues of $32 Billion). At Enbridge, I oversaw security operations and helped develop ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning) procedures working closely with state and local governments for pipeline and drilling facilities all over the world.

In 2013, I formed RAW Rx a botanical research company and in early 2015 was acquired by NANO, with the goal of finding products to replace unhealthy and addictive drugs that are so prevalent in much of America. As a health enthusiast, I found that the body can be enhanced to its optimal level through unique and beneficial compounds found within botanical plants and other botanical species.

As part of my work with NANO, I have studied economic development in rural communities across the world in different Socioeconomics to bring health and economic prosperity. Working closely with several major universities for research and development and to provide a platform for regulatory governance law reform in 7+ states allowing doctors to prescribe Natural Compound Medications.
