Summary

I pride myself on the ability to adapt to any situation that is thrown at me and still carry out my goals. I have a diligent attention to detail to make sure I do not get confused or lost. I communicate very well when I have an issue with work, I am a very fast learner so I may become more independent in the future. I am very reliable and pride myself on being on time and ready to work no matter the situation. I feel I would be a great addition to any team and would work very hard to prove that you made the right call in hiring me.
