

I Michzal McDonough am writing this complaint because every single day

I come to work I get into an argument ^(all day) with the man I have to work next to no matter ^{what} it is even if Scott tells me something about what we're supposed to be doing ill inform him of what was said and he will Just try arguing an telling me its my fault when I'm just passing along the word... I honestly did coming to work everyday because of it and I really like working here but I've never had such a horrible experiance while working it was one thing that it happened the first few days but now I can't handle it and I am getting tired of it and don't want to lose my Job for arguing with this guy or to have an altercation I've been very patient hoping it would change but it hasn't and I would really like to get this fixed ASAP because I enjoy coming to work everyday and would like to continue to do so without all the stress and ignorance

Thank you
