

MALCOLM S PENNY-KOSSER

| 136 William St. New York, New York 10038 | (303) 718-7687 | kossermalcolm@gmail.com

SUMMARY

Detail oriented recent graduate with a strong drive and work ethic who is comfortable in high pressure situations. Looking to gain a strong foundation of the skills obtained as an undergraduate student in order to have a long career in financial services and investment banking.

EDUCATION

Bachelors in Science
Elon University

May 2021

- Major: Finance
- Related course work: Financial Modeling with Excel, Management Information Science, Derivative Trading, Global Markets and Institutions, Advanced Managerial Finance, Business Statistics, Computer Science

SKILLS & ABILITIES

Skills

- Excel certified
- Strong verbal and written communication skills
- Basic Tableau and SQL skills

PROJECTS

Senior Analytical Financial Research

- Worked with a professor on a semester long project to help identify the possible long-term effects of supply chain alterations due to the pandemic
- Headed the commodities team with a special focus on lumber and steel futures
- Responsible for the entering and analyzing of data into Excel
- Formulated multiple in-depth presentations for both the university community and local businesses

WORK EXPERIENCE

Financial Intern
Karp Associates

Jan 2021-May 2021

- Worked directly with the CFO in an analytical advisory role
- Identified projects for further expansion of the commercial real estate sector
- Compiled and analyzed customer data to assist in the formation of new ordering policies in response to the pandemic

Summer Intern
Shear-Rite Steel

Summer 2017 &
Summer 2018

- Oversaw Managed an IT overhaul both in the front office and factory
- Digitized and analyzed seven years of customer data
- Managed changing shipping regulations and tariffs on steel
- Served as a purchasing agent for the company for both steel and equipment