OBJECTIVE

Thank you for taking the time to read my resume and cover letter. My experience has taught me a few key elements to success at any place of work. The first is punctuality and reliability. I take pride in being an employee and co-worker that is trusted to always show up on time and ready to work. Another element is asking questions and listening attentively. I've found that asking accurate questions and listening carefully to instruction enables me to learn new skills quickly and efficiently. A third element is bringing a positive mentality to every shift. I truly enjoy helping people select products and services that I personally believe in. And I like to make sure that enjoyment is transparent to customers, co-workers, and management.
