been a laborer most my life. Was a roofer/Construction last four years(Wobig Construction,LLC), it just wasn't bringin in enough money, and no benefits.Also worked for Hinco Concrete Block layers when we weren't busy roofin. Worked for Direct TV for a year before that(technician).Before that Bluff valley Campground, build sites,cut grass, keep a clean environment. Worked for Dakota Roads Masonry.Casey's General Store.And other labor jobs before that.Finally realizing i'm 26 yrs old and need to have a future.A better job with Benefits.I Would like a Factory/Production/Manufacturing job or somethin close to that.I am a hard worker/tough/fast paced/quick learner.Iv'e developed multiple skills over the years.Time to put them to good use.

Work Experience

Shingler/laborer

Wobig Construction LLC 507-398-7879 - Zumbrota, MN

April 1997 to March 2012

I was a shingler and everything in between. Every job we did was done the rite way and up to code, very professional in my eyes. There's alot of people out there that do things just enough to be good enough. Not in our case.We typically did nice houses, steep and high off the ground. Always made the home owner happy n satisfied. Set up ladders, planks. Tear off old shingles and old paper and immediately through all in dumpster til the roof was clean.Then we denailed the roof and swept.Fix any sheeting or rafter issues before applying new winterguard and new paper. Then put on the new product.Capped.Caulked.Make sure ground was spotless,then make sure the homeowner was happy.We did a house a day.Only six of us sometimes 8.We all worked good together, on same pace.

Laborer/Brick layer

Hinco - Faribault, MN

April 2010 to April 2011

I poured concrete,set up forms and labor. Iv'e been workin with them whenever they needed help and when we weren't busy roofin.
