(Medical Assembly/R&D)

Work in a fast pace cleanroom making medical devices. My job discription is to come to work everyday, clean my work area before and end shift, verifying that I have all the right components, tools that needs to be use and inspecting all the parts to specifications.

I work closely under the scope to make catheters by making verious parts and assemble it together using adhesive, heat guns, hot boxes, blades and side cutters. I also have experiences in soldering and welding small parts while building new test products. In R&D I work with new test products, refining and creating processes to make the parts better by working with engineers and technicians.
