ACTIVITIES

I have a driven passion for technology but a higher passion to help others, my technical degree has open lots of doors for me in the I.T. industry and has also has carried through to other work aspects in my life, supporting people through businesses privately owned or through the public. My degree has strengthened my communicative, analytical and technical skills but also working positions outside of my career has helped me gain or sharpen my skills as well. I have been involved with different types of activities all range from building workshops or computer labs for students, to job course training for call support assistance, to technical writing and documentations for work standard work procedures. I also enjoy spending time volunteering for non-profits when there are available openings, I have engaged with the public and community regarding mayor elections for the city and aside I find time to express my artistic talent by painting and drawing it is one of my favorite hobbies.
