My history working in plastic injection moulding and manufacturing along with my restaurant experience and my many years as a successful wife and mother of two grown children have given me a number of different skills. I developed skills using hand tools and operating machines at my manufacturing job. My restaurant experience has given me people and communication skills that are vary useful and effective. Some of the most rewarding skills I have developed come from being involved with my family, scheduling, giving guidance and and most of helping them succeed in their individual endeavors.

At Village Inn Restaurant I was mainly working as a Prep-Cook. I was responsible for preparing items for the kitchen, following recipes, using precise measurements and weights to insure quality. Once again I worked many different shifts to fill the restaurants needs. I also occasionally helped with order preparation in the kitchen as needed.

Billie's Restaurant
1830 E. Bridge St.
Brighton Co. 80601

My time at Billie's Restaurant was spent as their Prep-Cook, my duties were basically the same as Village Inn but much more personal as the prep area at Billie's was exposed to the customers. The exposure allowed me to have conversation with the customers and build personal relationships with them that made the restaurant feel like a small family place.
