I have two jobs, so I'm definitely a go getter, but I got goals in life, because without goals we get no where in life and my goal is to start a new career and move on to bigger and better things. My mission is to learn a new skilled trade such as HVAC, sheet metal, ect. so I can maintain a job I enjoy and also pay for my housing and take care of my family also looking for a job that can work with my schedule so I can try and maintain two jobs if I need to. I got a colorado driver's license and a reliable transportation. I like staying busy to help make the time go by faster. I enjoy talking to people, an keeping the customer/ boss satisfied; good under pressure, Sales and Construction are a plus and - ALWAYS- willing to learn something new whether it's an inside or outside job.
