Professional Summary

I am a highly motivated person that puts a lot of pride in my work. My main focus in any position I have been assigned, is to do the best I can in that assignment.

When working on any team, either as a production worker or supervisor, it is vitally important to the team that every member of the team is allowed input into the project, and every member be treated as an equal. Efficient team work provides a higher quality of production in a timely manner.

I also have very good communication skills and the ability to listen. I am good at organizing tasks and making sure that all materials and tools are present to perform the task at hand.
