Currently I work as a Merchandising Produce Assistant for Jewel-Osco helping assist our produce sales team to oversee company-wide produce departments that have reach more than 20 million in weekly sales. Spending the last seven years with Jewel I have sat in a variety of different roles while going to school to achieve my bachelor's degree in marketing. Following graduation Jewel-Osco offered me an opportunity to become a store manager trainee in which brought me to managing a produce department of about 20 to 25 people that averaged more than 400 million in annual sales. Developing a background in management, operations, retail, and merchandising I have found an interest to better under the buying aspect to help better well round my skills, knowledge, and experiences.
